

Ford Predicts 9.3 Million Car Year

DETROIT (AP)—Henry Ford II, describing the auto industry outlook for the rest of the year as very good, predicted Thursday that domestic new car sales could reach 9.3 million in 1968 even with the dampening effects of a possible federal tax increase.

"Both in this country and abroad," Ford told a stockholders meeting, "The automobile industry shows every sign of continuing to be an industry of strong growth."

Ford, chairman of the company, said since the two-month United Auto Workers Union strike last fall resulted in substantial losses in both the third and fourth quarters high production and sales plus higher car prices have resulted in first-quarter sales greater than in any previous quarter.

"Our earnings established a new first-quarter record," he said.

Ford later told newsmen that he thought the company would "come pretty close" to having record profits, although they would be under the record $703 million of 1965.

Asked whether prices would be increased on 1969 models, Ford said that since costs of material and labor were climbing "we expect to raise prices in the fall."

Appearing for the first time at a Ford stockholders meeting was the company's new president, Semon Knudsen, who resigned as a General Motors vice president to join Ford.

Under stockholder questioning, Knudsen said he saw no conflict of interest in the fact that he held some 50,000 shares of GM stock just before he switched allegiance.

Knudsen said that nevertheless he was placing a "substantial portion" of his GM stock on the open market, putting some of it in a charitable trust and turning over control of the remainder to a bank trustee.

One stockholder who appears frequently at annual meetings of many large corporations — Wilma Soss of New York — congratulated Ford on his coup in landing Knudsen.

But Mrs. Soss warned that as a General Motors stockholder she planned to propose that GM pull a switch and hire Lee Iacocca, Ford executive vice president who had been regarded as a future prospect for the Ford presidency.

Commenting on his work as chairman of the National Alliance of Businessmen, Ford said the nation's business leaders have pledged to provide more than 175,000 permanent and summer jobs for the hard-core unemployed. The alliance was established by President Johnson to place 100,000 hard-core jobless at work by the summer of 1969 and 500,000 by the summer of 1971.

Ford said he was surprised and encouraged by the support the alliance had received from government agencies, community organizations, labor unions and the business community.

He was asked by Mrs. Soss whether he had changed the previously reported stand that auto safety critic Ralph Nader was irresponsible in his criticism of the auto industry.

"The auto industry has always felt that it built safe cars," Ford replied, "it just depends on how much money you want to put into the total safety of an automobile and how much you think you can charge for that safety recoup investment."

"You can ride around in a tank if you want, but I don't know that anybody could afford a tank. So we've got to sort of work together and do the best we can within what we think the public can afford to pay for a product."

HENRY FORD II, center, told a Ford Motor Co. stockholders meeting Thursday that the auto industry should rack up 9.3 million car sales this year. He also leads the National Alliance of Businessmen and said the nation's businessmen have pledged more than 175,000 jobs for the hard-core unemployed. Stockholders heard their first report from Semon Knudsen, right, new president of Ford who resigned his job as a General Motors vice president. Strikes Paralyze France

PARIS (AP) — Premier Georges Pompidou summoned labor and business leaders to meet with him Saturday to seek a solution to the crushing strike wave paralyzing most of France's economic life.

More and greater turmoil threatened, meanwhile, as workers, students and farmers called a new round of demonstrations today a few hours before President Charles de Gaulle's address to the nation.

DeGaulle was expected to give his analysis of the situation and propose broad outlines for a settlement. The government then would try to reach an agreement with business and labor.

The Communist-led General Confederation of Workers, France's biggest union, immediately accepted Pompidou's invitation to meet but expressed that "24 hours are being lost."

The French Confederation of Democratic Workers also accepted, but warned that the strikes would not stop. Students rioted in Paris Thursday for the second night in succession, and authorities feared the violence would increase. Interior Minister Christian Fouchet warned that "armed extremists" hoped to use the demonstrations today to set off violence which would not be controlled.

The National Students Union scheduled demonstrations at four points in northeastern Paris. The Communist-dominated

President Charles de Gaulle

General Confederation of Workers announced two marches across the southern half of the city.

In the provinces, organizations of farmers called demonstrations to show solidarity with the workers and students—and to demand that the government protect them in coming price negotiations with the other Common Market countries.

There was a strong possibility that the marching demonstrators would have Paris in an uproar by the time De Gaulle spoke on television and the radio.

The 77-year-old president gave no advance indication of what he would say in his first public statement on the two-week-old upheaval that has paralyzed French business, industrial and educational life.

Political observers believed he would call a referendum next month to endorse a program of wide reform, including greater participation of the people in the government, of the workers in running their factories, and of the students in the operation of their universities and high schools.

Whether this would satisfy workers demanding higher wages, earlier retirement, job security and other bread-and-butter benefits was an unanswered question. Promises from Premier Georges Pompidou of sweeping educational reforms have had no effect on the rebellious students.

House Defeats Term Extension

Sunday Liquor Bill Is Shunned

LANSING (AP)—With several controversial issues still on their calendars and a deadline for action looming, weary House members voted today to work next week rather than hold an unusual Saturday session.

The House approved a resolution extending the deadline for passage or defeat of Senate bills — now midnight tonight — until next Tuesday.

Senate approval is required. The House-passed schedule calls for lawmakers to meet next Wednesday, and again June 3-6, to clean up the remainder of their work. Legislators had earlier hoped to go home Wednesday and stay until June 25.

Still on the calendar were bills to double Detroit's resident income tax, allow confiscation of a ticketed motorist's license, permit sale of package liquor within 500 feet of schools and churches and authorize a referendum on $100 million worth of recreation bonds.

Meeting from morning until noon, the House passed a bill to double Detroit's resident income tax, allow confiscation of a ticketed motorist's license, permit sale of package liquor within 500 feet of schools and churches and authorize a referendum on $100 million worth of recreation bonds.

Sen. James G. Fleming, R-Jackson, accused backers of the bill of making a "deal" with boosters of a bill to regulate contests and sweepstakes at gasoline stations and supermarkets.

Fleming charged that proponents of Sunday Liquor had agreed to support the sweepstakes bill in exchange for Sunday liquor support.

B52s Blast At Red Trail From Laos Borders

SAIGON (AP) — Waves of America's biggest bombers kept up one of the most concentrated saturation attacks of the war today against North Vietnamese troops reported crossing from Laos into the center of South Vietnam. The intensified air campaign was aimed at stopping any major enemy thrust across the country.

In 10 missions Thursday and today, at least 30 Air Force B52 bombers rained nearly 1,000 tons of explosives along enemy areas near the junction of the borders of South Vietnam, Laos and Cambodia.

While the pressure mounted in the central highlands, U.S. Marines just below the demilitarized zone reported 203 North Vietnamese killed in a savage two-day battle. The Leathernecks said 23 of their men were killed and 86 wounded in the action Wednesday and Thursday two miles northeast of Con Thien.

Bombing of the central highlands was stepped up after North Vietnamese troops were reported crossing over the Lao-tian frontier in force. U.S. intelligence officers in the field said the Communist command might try to grab a large chunk of South Vietnam's central plateau to put more teeth into its demands at the Paris peace talks.

The first North Vietnamese divisions ever identified in South Vietnam tried to cut the country in half in 1965 but American troops drove them back during a fall of bloody fighting.

Flying at altitudes of more than 20,000 feet, the huge planes attacked staging areas, troop concentrations, bunkers, artillery positions and antiaircraft batteries between the Laotian border and Dak To.

U.S. outposts at the head of a valley that stretches from the Laotian border south to Dak To report heavy traffic nightly along the route which serves as the main north-south highway through the highlands.

'Escapee' Was Just Shopping

DETROIT (AP)—Officials of the Detroit House of Correction were red-faced Thursday about the convict who they reported as an escapee. The inmate simply became separated from his guard in a big department store while shopping.

"After investigating," said W. H. Johnson, the reformatory's deputy superintendent, "we discovered that they were at opposite ends of the store."

The incident pointed out the tough leadership problems of the campaign. Though conceived by the SCLC, it embraces many groups which have brought to Washington leaders not in the SCLC hierarchy.

The marchers who went to the Longworth Office Building Thursday, for instance, were headed by George A. Wiley, executive director of the National Welfare Rights Association.

While the word from SCLC officials was that the time to shift the campaign to a pattern of civil disobedience had not arrived, Wiley's battle cry to the cheering demonstrators after the confrontation with police was: "This is only the beginning."

The marchers' mission was to see Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., chairman of the House

Peace Talks Stalemated

PARIS (AP) — The United States and North Vietnam are moving toward a showdown in the Paris peace talks on the issue of ending U.S. bombing of North Vietnamese territory, and there is no compromise in sight.

Each government is expected to increase its pressure on the other in the meetings ahead, with the threat of a breakdown in the talks, a weapon both are already using.

U.S. officials say they believe that North Vietnam's main aim is still to win the war by coordinated action on three fronts—trying to undermine the U.S.-supported government in Saigon, pressing the United States for concessions in the Paris talks, and striving for new military victories in South Vietnam.

U.S. Aim Similar

U. S. Secretary of Defense Clark M. Clifford, also speaking in Washington, put the problem from the U.S. point of view in terms that North Vietnam has used to describe its own operations.

"The North Vietnamese have consistently stated," Clifford said, "that their intention was to fight and negotiate, and we must be prepared, both physically and psychologically, to do the same."

Johnson said, "It still is not clear that Hanoi is ready for an early and honorable peace."

His statement seemed to reflect the frustration experienced by his negotiating team in Paris at failure to make any progress in opening secret talks with the North Vietnamese. This was proposed to Ambassador Xuan Thuy by Ambassador W. Averell Harriman in their meeting Wednesday and Thuy rejected it.

Plays To World Opinion

Thuy's strategy, at least through the Wednesday session, has been to use the talks as a forum from which to present his case to world public opinion that the United States is guilty of aggression against North Vietnam and should end all its attacks against that country without getting any North Vietnamese de-escalation in return.

The Harriman-Thuy conference is coming to the end of its second week with four meetings held, including only one this week. The next meeting is scheduled for Monday. While the sessions have been held behind closed doors, U.S. and North Vietnamese spokesmen have made public reports of virtually everything important that was said.

Police Arrest 18 Poor Marchers

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Poor People's Campaign has sustained its first group arrests after a Capitol Hill demonstration that the movement's leader called unplanned and unfortunate.

The 12 adults and 6 juveniles arrested Thursday for singing and kneeling outside a House of office building—banned as unlawful assembly on Capitol Hill—were released without bond in the custody of a campaign official.

The Rev. Ralph David Abernathy, president of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference and leader of the Poor People's Campaign, said no SCLC official was with the group but that this will be required in the future.

"We are not quite ready to up the movement to mass arrests," one of Abernathy's lieutenants, the Rev. Jesse Jackson, told newsmen.

The incident pointed out the tough leadership problems of the campaign. Though conceived by the SCLC, it embraces many groups which have brought to Washington leaders not in the SCLC hierarchy.

The marchers who went to the Longworth Office Building Thursday, for instance, were headed by George A. Wiley, executive director of the National Welfare Rights Association.

Measure Faces Foes In House; Possible Veto

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has passed a crime-control bill that would undo controversial Supreme Court rulings that guarantee criminal suspects greater rights. The measure also would grant police new wiretapping and electronic "bugging" authority.

But while the Senate passed the bill Thursday night by a 72-4 vote, it was uncertain how much of it will become law.

Veto Speculation

It still faces House consideration, and contains provisions strongly opposed by President Johnson and Chairman Emanuel Celler, D-N. Y., of the influential House Judiciary Committee. Already, there is speculation Johnson would veto such a measure.

The prime concern of Johnson, Celler and other opponents involves the proposed controls on the Supreme Court. And some opponents say constitutional questions are raised by sections authorizing police wiretapping and electronic surveillance or "bugging" of suspects.

As passed by the Senate, the bill's chief provisions would:

—Establish a two-year program of $400 million in federal grants to improve the training and equipment of state and local police and for research to develop new crime fighting techniques.

The grants could help finance the war on organized crime and control the prevention of riots.

—Undo Supreme Court decisions restricting the use of confessions and police lineup identification in federal crime trials. The sole test of the admissibility of a confession would be whether it was given voluntarily.

—Prohibit interstate mail-order sales of handguns and their over-the-counter sale to nonresidents of a state and otherwise tighten federal firearms controls.

The House last year passed the "Safe Streets" part of the bill providing for federal grants to strengthen local law enforcement. The Senate grafted on all the other provisions.

Celler Backs Court

Celler, in line to head the conference committee that will attempt to resolve differences in the Senate and House versions, already has said he would rather see the bill ditched than accept the section to undo Supreme Court decisions on the admissibility of confessions and lineup identifications.

Some senators reported they expect President Johnson to veto the bill unless these provisions are stricken.

But Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., who steered the bill through the Senate, said he was determined to keep them.

Passage of the bill followed more than three weeks of debate.

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — Dr. Benjamin Spock said Thursday night the greatest achievement of the peace movement in the United States has been the decision of President Johnson not to seek re-election.

But Spock added that a more important task-and an end to the Vietnam war has yet to be achieved.

"It's incredible to realize that we've unhorsed Lyndon Johnson," he said.

Spock is currently on trial in Boston with four others on a federal charge of counseling young men to avoid the draft. He addressed a dinner audience of some 500 members of the New Jersey Committee for a Sane Nuclear Policy as he received that group's third award for political courage.

The award cited Spock for his efforts in the peace movement.

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — The Iowa Supreme Court gave the nod to the father Thursday in a dispute over custody of a 5-year-old girl.

The court dismissed an appeal from a district court ruling which gave Michael Edward Gilligan, 28, a sailor stationed at Great Lakes, Ill., custody of his daughter, Lisa.

Gilligan was reunited with Lisa only briefly before returning to jail to finish serving a 30-day contempt of court sentence in connection with the case.

The high court decision capped a custody battle in which Lisa had been snatched back and forth five times between Gilligan and his sister, Mrs. Donald L. Thomas of West Des Moines.

Gilligan, a naval petty officer, gained custody of Lisa when she was an infant, after his marriage to the child's mother was annulled. He said he placed Lisa with Mrs. Thomas because he was sent to sea for an extended period.

'Grace Of God'
Guided Rescue,
Says Patrolman

The rescue of an Escanaba boy from drowning in Little Bay de Noc was "guided by the grace of God," said the police officer who plunged in to save him.

Escanaba Police Patrolman Laurence Johnson, 47, and the father of eight children, made this comment in replying to praises for his heroism at a Gov. Romney citation presentation ceremony in the City Hall Thursday afternoon.

Present for the program were Rep. Charles H. Varnum, who with Gov. Romney signed the citation; Stephen St. Aubin, 13, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roland St. Aubin of 1302 N. 22nd St. Stephen, a 6th grade student at the Webster School, was pulled to shore by Patrolman Johnson on Sunday, May 5, after the boy fell into about eight feet of water from a retainer wall on the north Bay Shore. The boy was fishing, made a cast and lost his pole, and was attempting to recover it when he fell into the water.

Patrolman Johnson, on shore in the patrol car, saw the accident and ran to the retainer wall where Stephen was struggling to keep afloat and plunged in fully clothed as the boy was going down for the second time.

"No, I can't swim," said Stephen. "Neither can I," said his father, who is an employee of Harnischfeger Corp.

"We have three children but he is our only son," said Mrs. St. Aubin. "The girls are Susan Jane, 14, and Jacqueline Mary, who will be five years old on Friday."

Rep. Varnum in presenting the special tribute to Officer Johnson noted that the occasion was particularly fitting as part of the observance of Michigan Week. The citation indicates the respect and esteem accorded Officer Johnson and the public debt of gratitude in risking his life to rescue Stephen, he said.

Patrolman Johnson, born in Escanaba on Jan. 9, 1921, has been a member of the Escanaba Police Department since 1954.

State Allocates
Income Tax Fund
To Local Units

State Rep. Charles H. Varnum today announced the first quarterly distribution of income tax funds to local governments in the 107th District, which he represents.

Under the tax structure, each county will receive $1.52 per person, with 40 per cent of the total going to the county treasury, and the other 50 per cent to be divided among the cities, villages and townships in the county on a population basis.

In the 107th District, income tax rebates amounting to $52,128 will go to Delta County; and $13,605 to Schoolcraft County. These payments should be in the hands of county treasurers by the end of May.

Varnum added that if the returns from the income tax remain near their present level, an approximate total of $6 per person will be refunded to Michigan's counties over the entire year.

Welcome Newcomers On Hospitality Day

Hospitality Day of Michigan Week, being observed today, was expressed with over-flowing baskets of gifts representative of the community, and presented to three newcomer families in Delta County.

The gifts and other contributions were from Delta County merchants and agencies and industries, said James Schultz, Hospitality Day chairman. He expressed appreciation for the generous response.

The entertainment of the newcomers selected for Hospitality Day recognition was the responsibility of three Delta County couples, who will serve as hosts at dinners sponsored by Delta County eating places.

Mr. and Mrs. John LaBranche of Escanaba are hosts to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cervenka, 1519 S. 14th St., who came to Escanaba from Childersburg, Ala., and were selected by Mrs. Nora Jensen of the Welcome Wagon Newcomers Club. The LaBranches entertained the Cervenkas at the House of Ludington, compliments of Pat Hayes.

Cervenka is office manager for Rust Engineering, a firm now employed in the construction of the Mead Corp. paper mill expansion. He has been office manager with Rust in Georgia, S. Carolina, West Virginia and Arizona as well as Michigan. The Cervenkas have two children, Leslie, 4, and Scott 1½.

Mr. and Mrs. James A. Johnson of Gladstone are hosts to the community's newcomers, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Pierce of 1608 Lake Shore Drive, have been married for three months, and came to Gladstone with his assignment here as coordinator of the human resources program for UPCAP. He is from Delaware and she is from St. Paul, Minn.

They dined at the Terrace Supper Club, compliments of Marv Pouliot.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Stenlund of Rapid River host Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Nelson, who moved to Rapid River from Windermere, Fla. He is a management consultant and his work takes him throughout the country.

They were guests at dinner at Jack's restaurant in Rapid River.

Tax Allocation Set, Appeal Threatened

By DAVE ANDREWS

A two-mill boost in tax allocations for school districts of Delta County was included Thursday night in the final 1968 allocation approved by the County Tax Allocation Board, but Supervisor Charles Sedenquist of Wells Township threatened to appeal the order.

Sedenquist, who is chairman of the Board of Supervisors but not a member of the Allocation Board, said the order provides for "discriminatory taxation" against residents of Wells Township and the City of Escanaba because of "bargaining" between the Escanaba Area school district and Ford River and Cornell Townships.

He said that payment by the Area schools to Cornell and Ford River townships which allows the townships to reduce allocation requests is an "illegal procedure" and charged that residents of Wells Township and Escanaba "are paying more for the same services" from the school district.

Vote Is Split

The final order — approved by a split vote of the allocation board — provides 9.2 mills for the Escanaba Area public schools, 5.2 mills for Delta County, five tenths of a mill for Cornell and Ford River Townships and one tenth of a mill for the Delta-Schoolcraft Intermediate School district.

All other school districts in the county will receive 8.7 mills, the difference lying in an additional half-mill allocation (1.0) to all other townships in the county.

A total of 15 mills was divided.

The order is the same as the one issued last year, except for a two-mill reduction in the allocation for county government. Those two mills were given to local school districts.

Sedenquist, who said Wells Township does not submit a budget to the Tax Allocation Board because it has had enough money to operate from state sales tax rebates, said that Wells Township and Escanaba taxpayers are paying taxes which, in part, are being used by Cornell and Ford River Townships through the agreements with the schools.

He said Wells Township wants "equal treatment."

Pay Townships

The lease agreements in question are negotiated by the Escanaba Area Board of Education with Cornell and Ford River Townships for "rental" of townships halls for school purposes.

Under the leases, the Area school district pays the townships $1,500 annually to rent the halls. With this revenue, which equals about a half-mill in tax income in the townships, both Ford River and Cornell Townships have been able to hold allocation requests to a half mill.

With the Townships asking only a half mill instead of one mill, the Escanaba Area district gains a half mill across the entire district, netting about $25,000 to the district when spread on the big valuations of Wells Township and the City of Escanaba.

Leases Not New

Sedenquist said he would take the matter to his Township Board before making a decision on an appeal.

The lease agreements the Escanaba Area public schools have with Ford River and Cornell Townships are not new. In previous years, the allocation orders were not appealed.

Sedenquist said, however, that this is the last year township supervisors will be a part of the Allocation Board because of the county reapportionment and that the procedure should be straightened out now. Any appeal must be filed with the State Tax Commission, Lansing, within 15 days.

Voting approval of the allocation were County Treasurer Anne S. Villeneuve, who made the motion, Albin Pearson Jr., representing the Escanaba Area public schools; R. L. Godmer, intermediate school district superintendent, and Fred Saykly, Escanaba, delegate at large.

Oppose Order

Grey Knaus, chairman of the County Ways and Means Committee, and Cecil Chase, representing the City of Escanaba, opposed. Their opposition was founded in the cut of the allocation for Delta County from the preliminary order.

The county allocations was trimmed three tenths of a mill — from 5.5 mills to 5.2 mills — after Saykly cited figures showing that Delta County's return from the Michigan income tax will be some $22,000 higher than anticipated and Mrs. Villeneuve pointed out that expenses may be less.

Saykly said he was informed by Rep. Charles Varnum (R-Manistique) that Delta County will receive about $77,000 this year from the state income tax. The allocation budget showed an anticipated income tax revenue of $55,000.

Although some county expenses this year could increase (Circuit Court costs for juries, attorney fees, etc.), Mrs. Villeneuve said that the Social Welfare Dept. ended 1967 with a surplus of $39,000 and that the department is still operating on that surplus and state assistance this year.

She said that the Social Welfare Dept. has not "used one penny" of the 1968 budget appropriation.

Last year, Delta County was allocated 7.2 mills and although the Board of Supervisors certified only 6.2 mills for collection the county still ended the year with a surplus.

Ballot Is Set

The allocation of 9.2 mills to the Escanaba Area School district is a half mill higher than the school board had anticipated in setting the millage proposal for the June 10 school election. With the election little more than two weeks away, the proposal cannot be altered as ballots have been printed and some absentee votes already cast.

If the proposal is approved, however, the Board of Education could elect to certify only a part of the extra millage for collection.

Delegates Watched

Never have delegates to the national conventions of the major political parties of the country been under the probing inquiry about their opinions that they are this year as the Miami Beach convention of the Republicans and the Chicago convention of the Democrats are approached.

Michigan will have 47 delegates to the Republican convention. (From the Upper Peninsula will be Herbert W. Corey, Stephenson and Mrs. LaVonne Lindroos, Ishpeming, both of the 11th Congressional District.)

Michigan will have 102 Democrats as delegates to the Chicago convention.

Our state Republican delegates met this week on Wednesday in Detroit with Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York, a candidate for the Presidency and they are to meet June 7 in Lansing with Richard Nixon, the front running prospect of the Republicans.

Nixon, who a while ago seemed the only offering of the Republicans, now has the avowed opposition of Rockefeller and the apparently developing intention of Gov. Ronald Reagan of California to run too. Reagan is not generally regarded as a serious threat to Nixon yet, but he could be if he has a smash success in the Oregon primary on May 28.

The dual character of the campaigns in both parties is unusual. Whereas in 1964 Barry Goldwater concentrated on the sign-up of delegates and went to the convention with the nomination in the sack, in both the Republican and Democratic contests this year there is a play by the candidates for both the delegate votes necessary for nomination, and for the public support that theoretically our political system translates into the nomination of our presidents.

Nixon is far out in front among the Republicans in delegate strength, not only because of commitments to him by party organizations, but also because of the IOU's he's earned in many years of work for the party. Plus the strength he picks up as the spokesman for conservatism. Rockefeller — and possibly Reagan; whom Rocky is wooing as a possible running mate — in order to win nomination, must prevent Nixon from being nominated on the first ballot and then must convert the delegates to their banners.

Keeping track of delegates is a much harder job for Robert Kennedy than it was for his brother John in the 1960 campaign. Bobby not only got a late start in the race, but the Democratic party has changed its convention plans drastically because it thought it was going to have a Chicago party to shoo Lyndon Johnson back into office.

With that prospect the Democrats almost doubled the number of delegates in order to use the convention as a party solidarity device and to get as many loyal Democrats as possible into the act. This has resulted in a convention with 2,622 delegates. Some of the states permit half votes so there might be as many as 5,611 delegates and alternates for the Kennedy machine to keep track of as it bucks the Democratic administration machine supporting Vice President Hubert Humphrey.

To do this Bobby Kennedy believes that he must impress the public as the final key to delegate strength. He needs 1,312 votes for nomination.

Kennedy strategists regard Senator Eugene McCarthy as already a dead duck in the Democratic contest. He hasn't been able to put together as able a campaign team as Kennedy, he lacks the financial resources, their campaign platforms aren't unlike, and the initial advantage he won by his New Hampshire victory and the opposition that forced President Johnson to drop out is eroding as the campaign progresses.

The Kennedy mystique is at work again, as it worked for John F. Kennedy and the campaign is developing Bobby as more than an idol of the students, the Negroes and the big city folk. He won big in Nebraska, which is not metropolitan and which isn't Negro, so Humphrey has a scrap on his hands and the millstone of the Vietnam war to overcome.

Actually, Kennedy helped make the Vietnam policy which is forcing Lyndon Johnson out of office and he has admitted this and added: "Past error is no excuse for its own perpetuation. Tragedy is a tool for the living to gain wisdom, not a guide by which to live."

South could pass at this point but he has the right hand for going on. Since North has shown at least 10 minor suit cards South can count a maximum of one loser in the major suits and his good minor suit cards indicate that there won't be more than one loser there. In fact, South is ambitious enough to make a mild slam try. He does this by bidding four hearts. This can't be an attempt to get to a heart contract and must be read as a club slam try.

North looks at his eight points, refuses the invitation and closes the bidding at five clubs.

Strangely enough the spade lead allows South to make 12 tricks. He takes his ace of spades and knocks out the ace of

In yesterday's column we discussed the two spade response to one no-trump which shows both minor suits and any strength hand. Yesterday responder held one point. Today he holds eight high card points. Ordinarily he would simply bid three no-trump.

West would make his normal spade lead and the defense would collect five tricks before South could get around to cashing in any clubs.

The artificial Jacoby two spade response asks South to rebid two no-trump with at least one and a half stoppers in each major. King-jack-small is the least holding that qualifies here. Otherwise, South rebids to three of his better minor.

The three club bid warns North away from three no-trump but he wants to make a further try for game and does so by bidding four clubs.

THIS IS THE MAIN STREET of Mackinac Island looking toward Old Fort Mackinac on the Hill of History. Carriages — rubber-tired in this automotive age — wait for customers in the center of the street and the sign in the foreground doesn't direct traffic to a garage, but to the "Island Livery — 1 Block."

Busch Or Bosch, But Say MackinAW

The Island, the bridge, the city, and the straits are all pronounced MackinAW. Say it to rhyme with law. It is not correct to pronounce it MackinAC. Do not say it to rhyme with sack.

Mackinac Island has a population of around 975 inhabitants. However, a number of these people are from Mackinac College, a new face on the Island.

Thus, the population of Mackinac Island natives is most often said to be between 600 and 700.

Construction and maintenance work for the island's many summer business places and homes employs many residents. In addition, the seven business places which usually remain open year-round employ a number of islanders. Usually seven businesses remain open year-round. They are: grocery store, drug store, power and electric utility company, lumber and supplies pier, post office, Western Union and state liquor store.

It's not really as cold on Mackinac as most people might imagine! The waters of the Straits have a tempering effect on the temperatures, and so it is often warmer on the island than it is at some nearby mainland communities. Temperatures are often similar to those of Central Michigan, 18 to 35 degrees. Of course, there are occasions when the winter mercury falls considerably lower than this. Snow fall is quite heavy, but again often not as heavy as many areas of northern Lower Michigan and the Upper Peninsula.

The boat lines usually operate until Jan. 1 or so, and begin service again in late March or early April. During the time that boat service is suspended, airplanes fly in supplies, mail and passengers. Some islanders operate motor sleighs between the island and the mainland during those winters in which the Straits freeze over. Occasionally, islanders take a team of horses over the ice to the mainland.

There are approximately 500 horses on the island during the summer months. In winter, most are sent over the mainland to Onaway, Mich. Only enough horses are kept on the island during the winter to carry on winter business and provide transportation for winter residents.

Of notable interest to the visitor is the fact that the horse reigns supreme as king of the island. A city ordinance prohibits the operation of private automobiles on Mackinac. This ordinance was passed chiefly because of the wish of the community to retain its cherished 19th Century atmosphere. Only an ambulance, fire-engine and state park vehicle are allowed to operate in emergency situations.

Mackinac Island is approximately 2 miles across, 3 miles up and 9 miles around. The island contains nearly 2,300 acres. Of this, the Mackinac Island State Park comprises 1,865 acres.

Mackinac Island is incorporated as a city. It received its charter in 1889 and is governed by a mayor and six aldermen. The city of Mackinac Island actually includes all of Mackinac Island, Round Island and a mile of water around both.

Mackinac Island is a part of Mackinac County (Upper Peninsula). The county seat is at St. Ignace. Originally, Mackinac Island was the county seat, but for sake of convenience the county seat was relocated at St. Ignace on the mainland.

Mackinac Island has a fine new school built in 1960-61. It is electrically heated. The school serves grades kindergarten through ten. Its present enrollment is approximately 198. There are eight instructors, a principal, and school superintendent.

Dirty Trick Serves To Offset Another

Dear Ann Landers: I need the opinion of a fair-minded person. A certain relative of mine wears a hearing aid. She likes to argue a lot and usually on subjects she doesn't know anything about. Whenever she gets in a tight spot and realizes she is losing the argument she turns off her hearing aid.

This little maneuver can drive a person up the wall. What can be done to combat unfair tactics of this sort? — WILLING TO LISTEN

Dear Willing: What I'm about to suggest is a dirty trick, but under the circumstances it's what she deserves. The next time you have a discussion and the relative begins to show signs of irritation, stop talking — just move your lips. She will think her hearing aid has gone on the fritz and while she is switching it off and on, you can speak your piece.

Dear Ann Landers: This is a second marriage for both my wife and me. Lois and I get along well and this marriage is a good one. Our only disagreements result from Lois' animosity toward the nieces and nephews of my previous marriage.

I have known these children since birth and I love them very much. It never occurred to me that we are no longer related, as Lois insists. True, they are the children of my former wife's sister and brother, but the divorce has not changed my feeling for them.

Last Christmas, Lois and I had our first serious argument. She was visibly upset when I bought gifts for my nieces and nephews. She accused me of using them as an excuse to stay linked with my former wife — which is absurd.

If there is any validity to Lois' criticism please tell me and I will rethink the situation. — TROUBLE IN CLEVELAND

Dear Trouble: A second wife who tries to isolate her husband from all his previous ties, makes a serious mistake. She should be smart enough to know that he will eliminate some of the old connections because he wants to. The ones he wishes to maintain should not be tampered with. If a second wife succeeds, through pressure, in getting her husband to sever all old ties he may become resentful and decide he made a bad bargain. Got it? I hope your wife gets it, too.

Dear Ann Landers: Why can't girls be paper boys? I am 11 years of age and ever since I can remember I have wanted to have a paper route.

My brother had a route last year and half the time I took it over because he was sick or had something else to do. I really enjoyed it and would love a route of my own.

Most girls are as strong as boys and they are every bit as dependable, maybe even more so. Delivering papers is fun. It teaches kids to be responsible and it is a great way to earn money. Since females are supposed to have equal rights nowadays why can't they be hired to do this work? — AGAINST UNFAIRNESS

Dear Against: A fine question — and one for which I have no answer. Let's ask those fine gentlemen — the backbone of the industry — the circulation managers of the nation's newspapers. Why can't girls be paper boys?

Drinking may be "in" to the kids you run with — but it can put you "out" for keeps. You can cool it and stay popular. Read "Booze and You — For Teen-Agers Only." Send 35c in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope with your request.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Fish Runs On Wane

Recent rains have settled the dust to some extent on the back roads, however high ground soils are extremely dry and susceptible to careless use of fire.

Black flies have been rather bothersome for the past week. Juneberry and cherry are starting to bloom. Of the wild flowers the trillium is most profuse. More hunters are finding a good supply in their favorite haunts.

The height of fish runs on local rivers are about over. Streams are a bit above normal. Lakes are extremely high except those under control by dams.

The first robins are hatched and their parents are busy scurrying to supply the gaping mouths that await them at their nests.

Rainbow (Steelhead): Best results in the district are reported from the Big Two Hearted River in Luce County and Sucker, Mosquito and Hurricane rivers in Alger County. Some nice fish also reported from the Black and Carp rivers, Mackinac County. Rainbow were also taken at Andrus Lake, Chippewa County, Dodge and Dutch Fred lakes, Schoolcraft County.

Sucker For Trout
Brown Trout: Some fish reported from Tahquamenon River below the Big Falls and from Frank Lake, Luce County.

Brook Trout: Good catches were reported from the Sucker River, Alger County; Upper Tahquamenon, Luce County; S. Branch Betsy, Chippewa County and E. Branch Fox, Schoolcraft County. Good catches are also reported from Peanut, Dillingham, Ward and Syphon lakes, Luce County; Millecoquin Trout Pond, Mackinac County.

Splake: Good catches taken on streamer flies from Moon, Holland, Pretty and Tank lakes, Luce County.

Coho Salmon: A few fish in the 14-17" class have been taken in East Bay at Grand Marais.

Troll For Lakers
Lake Trout: The potential is good for trollers in both Lakes Superior and Michigan. Bobbers are making nice catches in lower Whitefish Bay, Lake Superior between Salt Point and Brimley. Schribers Hole is a popular fishing ground. Fresh cut herring, smelt and sucker are used as bait. Good catches of lake trout are also being made off Munising, Alger County.

Northern Pike: Best catches are reported from Big Manistique Lake and Blind Sucker Flowage, Luce County; Millecoquin and Milakokia lakes, Mackinac County; St. Mary's River, Waikwa Bay and Sheldrake Flowage, Chippewa County. Some northern pike have also been reported taken from the Tahquamenon River, Luce County; Indian Lake and Manistique River, Schoolcraft County. The "Show Pool," Seney Refuge (along M-77) does not open to fishing until Memorial Day and E-3 (Driggs River) Pool until July 1st.

Walleye: Catches as a whole are light. Best catches are being made in Munuscong Bay, Chippewa County; Manistique Lake, Luce-Mackinac counties; Tahquamenon River, Luce County and Indian Lake, Schoolcraft County. Most popular areas on Big Manistique at present are Needle Point, Helmer and Ostrander bays.

Yellow Perch: Good catches are reported from Emerson and Waikwa bays (Lake Superior), and Munuscong Bay, Chippewa County; Les Cheneaux Channels, Mackinac County, Manistique and Round lakes, Luce County and Indian Lake, Schoolcraft County.

Menominee: Good catches are still being made at the Little Two Hearted, Two Hearted and Blind Sucker rivers, Luce County and Sucker River and Sable Creeks, Alger County.

'No Progress' In Construction Workers Strike

IRON MOUNTAIN — "No progress."

That was the report this morning from negotiators for the Michigan Chapter of the Associated General Contractors of America and Local 1329, Construction and General Laborers Union, AFL-CIO, after a bargaining meeting which lasted 10 hours Thursday at the Holiday Motel.

Each side had four representatives at the meeting.

No future meetings were scheduled, but both sides said they would be available for future negotiations at any time or any place.

Spokesman for the AGC today said they are continuing to hold to the following three-year proposal made to the union at a meeting April 29 in Iron Mountain:

1. Twenty-five cents per hour raise effective on the date of agreement; 2. Ten cents an hour raise first full pay period on or after Oct. 1, 1968; 3. Twenty-five cents an hour raise first full pay period on or after May 1, 1969; 4. Thirty cents an hour raise first full pay period on or after May 1, 1970.

According to a spokesman for the Michigan Chapter of the AGC, in twelve months from date of agreement this would represent a 16.2 per cent wage increase, and in 24 months it would be a 24.3 per cent wage increase.

Sportsmen Debate Celebration Role In Hermansville

HERMANVILLE — The William Anderson Sportsmen Club is expected to meet with the American Legion Post in the near future to resolve a question on whether or not to assist in sponsoring the July 4 celebration in Hermansville this year.

Sportsmen Club members pointed out that a great deal of work is done each year on the celebration and that it's always the same individuals who do the work. An alternative plan based on volunteer help from the community was discussed.

Fishing at Hermansville Lake was reported as fair with a large number of anglers trying their luck.

The club will hold a workbee at the lake Saturday afternoon with equipment donated by Puffy Miller, Elmer Helgren and Roger Whitens.

Dale Ayotte will be the life-guard on duty at the Hermansville Lake starting on June 1. Ayotte discussed the possibility of starting a rifle club in the community.

Corn plantings will be made on the Whitens, Faccio, Schultz, Barribeau, Miller camp areas in order to provide additional feed for pheasants.

John Malone announced the Soap Box Derby will be held Sunday afternoon at 2 p.m. on the Tom Savard hill on County Road 388. Over 20 entries have been reported with more expected. This is a Cub Scout project. The Cub Scouts are sponsored by the Sportsmen Club.

After the meeting the group enjoyed a film "Coho Fishing." Conservation Officer Gerald Welling, Conservation Towerman Jesse Yale and Frank Rodman were in charge of the program.

Kidney Symposium
GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Experts in the field of home treatment with artificial kidney machines are expected in Grand Rapids Friday for the opening of a two-day symposium at St. Mary's Hospital sponsored by the Michigan Kidney Foundation.

The proposal was rejected by the union as being "pitifully inadequate to meet the needs of our people."

The union made a counter offer calling for 75 cents an hour increase each year for three years, representing an overall increase of $2.25 over that period of time.

Present wage scale for general laborers is $3.70 an hour.

Crash Victims All Improved

Four accident victims ranging in age from 11 to 18, patients at St. Francis Hospital, were reported in improved condition today — although the youngest was only "fair" after being listed as critical and poor.

Thomas Demeuse, 11, Gladstone, who was injured when the bicycle on which he and another boy were riding was struck by a car on May 13, is now in fair condition. His companion, Douglas McKnight, 8, of Gladstone, was killed.

The driver of the automobile, Ronald J. Destrampe, 31, of Gladstone, is charged with negligent homicide and will appear in Municipal Court at Escanaba on June 5 at 2 p.m. The appearance was continued to that date from Thursday by agreement.

On June 5 it will be determined whether Destrampe will waive examination or receive preliminary hearing. The charge is a Circuit Court offense.

Miss Mary K. Austad, 17, of Escanaba, is in "good" condition. She was passenger on a motorbike driven by Michael S. Berro, 18, of Escanaba, which was involved in a collision with an automobile driven by Mrs. Robert Carlson, Escanaba, on Tuesday. Miss Austad suffered the amputation of her left leg at the knee, and Berro, also in good condition, has a fractured left ankle.

Richard C. Anzalone, 16, of 1523 11th Ave. S., whose left leg was fractured on May 18 in a motorbike-car accident, is reported in good condition also at St. Francis Hospital today.

Collect 263 Units:

Blood Bank Only 19 Under Quota

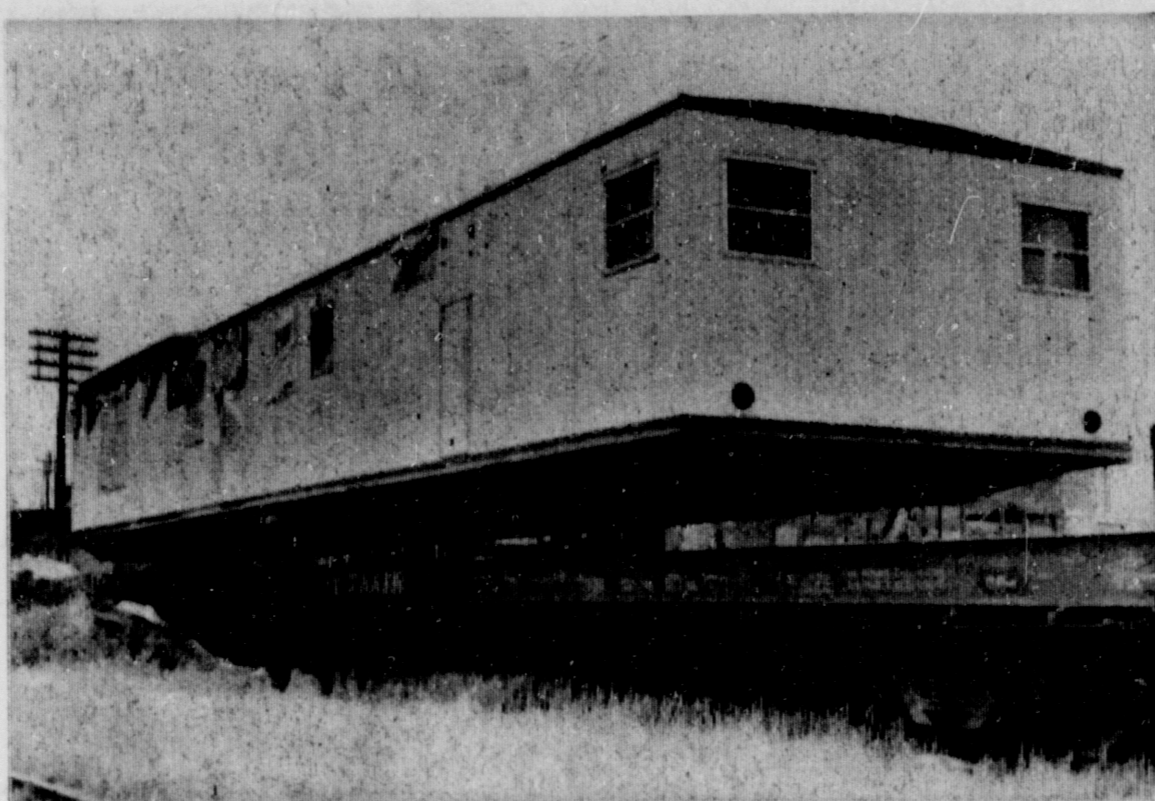

Thirty-two seniors and several teachers of the Escanaba Area Public High School were blood donors to help boost the Delta County total to near its quota, the Red Cross reported today.

The students and teachers turned out as "replacement donors for blood received recently by one of the teachers, Richard Ferrario, government instructor, who was stricken while accompanying the school tennis team on one of its trips and was hospitalized at Menominee.

"For 90 per cent or more of the students it was the first time they were donors," said Mrs. Edward Olsen, chairman of the Red Cross blood procurement committee.

She described as "terrific" the student response to the appeal organized at the school by seniors Jean Killmar and Mark Neumeier.

A total of 263 units of blood — 19 short of the Delta County quota — was received in the three days the bloodmobile was in the county. On Tuesday in Gladstone 66 units were received, four over quota; and

THE LARGEST HOUSE TRAILER ever delivered in Escanaba — it's too big to be moved over the highway in the conventional manner of delivering trailer homes — arrived here in damaged condition and is being returned to the factory at Ironwood for reconstruction. The trailer, 14 feet wide and 65 feet long, was intended for Phil & Lee's new mobile home court now under development west of the Piggy Wiggly store. The damage to the big trailer home is visible at the top of the side, where pulpwood on another car apparently raked the paneling. Trailers which move over the highway cannot be wider than 12 feet nor longer than 60. (Daily Press Photo)

Fish Problems, Commencement On Ruppe's List

Congressman Philip Ruppe is spending the weekend in Delta and Schoolcraft counties and capping a series of office interviews and visitation with an address at the commencement of Bay de Noc Community College Sunday.

Ruppe was at Gladstone City Hall this morning for interviews with citizens, visited the John F. Kennedy School and then drove to the Nordic electric utility ceremony near Iron Mountain that interconnected the Upper Peninsula Power Co. system and Wisconsin Michigan Power Co. electric systems.

He is to hold citizen interviews at the Federal Building in Escanaba from 4 to 6 today and to confer this evening with commercial fishermen in the House of Ludington upon a crisis in commercial fishing in Lake Michigan waters.

The Michigan Conservation Department, which controls commercial fishing in Michigan Great Lakes waters, has restricted the taking of whitefish in order to protect introduced species so that commercial fishing is left with legal species that will not support profitable commercial operations.

"I don't know whether the federal government can be helpful in this situation," said Ruppe. "The Conservation Department has its problems, too, in trying to protect its fish planting programs, but at least we can listen and try to be helpful. This is a very serious matter for our fishermen."

Conservation officials said that in April and May more than 50 per cent of some catches in northern Lake Michigan nets set for whitefish were lake trout. It shut down the whitefish fishing in the area to save the planted lake trout and licensed 6 vessels to fish exploratively to learn where commercial fishermen might set nets for legal species without taking the young trout.

Ruppe will be at the Manistique Court House from 9 to 11 Saturday, will visit the Manistique Senior Citizens Center at 11:30, attend a luncheon in Manistique and a banquet of the state convention of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen and its Auxiliary at the Teamsters Hall in Escanaba Saturday at 6 p.m.

He will deliver the commencement address at Bay de Noc Community College's commencement exercise at 2 p.m. Sunday in William W. Oliver Auditorium.

Area Ladies Journey To New Mexico

LA BRANCHE — Leaving their husbands at home to babysit, three area women recently took a 10 day trip to New Mexico. Included in the group were Mrs. Walter Welch, La Branche, Mrs. John Piotrowski, Perronville, and Mrs. Stanley Mazer, Powers. They were accompanied on the trip by Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Mazer of Perronville and Mrs. Leo Neimask of Chicago who joined them enroute.

After taking the train from Powers to Flagstaff, the group rented a car for sight seeing. Their itinerary included visits to Grand Canyon, a petrified forest, and Sunset Crater, the latter an important training area for U.S. astronauts.

A three day visit was spent with Miss Janice Piotrowski, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Piotrowski, who is presently in her second year of teaching at an elementary school in the area of Truth or Consequences, N.M. Miss Piotrowski escorted the group to local points of interest, including the Price Black Dairy Farm, a "milk factory," where some 2,700 head of Guernsey cattle are raised under ultra modern conditions. Another point of interest was the tiny school for Spanish-Americans where Miss Piotrowski teaches one day a week. The northern visitors were treated to a very "hot" lunch program which included enchiladas and other Mexican dishes.

The final point of interest in the area was the Carrie Tingley Hospital for handicapped and crippled children where Miss Piotrowski teaches one day a week. The hospital is built around one of the many hot springs in the area so that the young patients may take advantage of the healing effects of the mineral waters. The group received a guided tour around the complex.

After leaving Truth or Consequences, the group visited friends in Albuquerque and then returned home by train.

Wood Fine Material If Well Used In Housing

With proper seasoning, wood is a dependable building material. A bulletin, "Wood Decay in Houses: How to Prevent and Control It," prepared by the U.S. Forest Service, points out that decay causes little damage in properly designed houses that are well built and well maintained.

"Most damage can be avoided. Prevention is cheap; cure is sometimes costly," the bulletin advises.

Wood decay is caused by minute plants called fungi. These plants consist of microscopic threads that are visible to the naked eye only when many of them occur together. But it is easy to see the fruiting bodies of fungi, from which their spores are distributed.

Some fungi merely discolor wood, but decay fungi destroy the fiber. Decayed wood is often dry in the final stages, but not while the decay is taking place, because fungi cannot work in dry wood. That is why there is no such thing as "dry rot."

As a general safeguard, a homeowner can prevent decay by keeping decay fungi from entering the lower part of the structure. Dry wood should be used as far as practicable and a house should be built in a way that will keep wood dry most of the time.

Spores or "seeds" of decay fungi are always present in the air. They can't be kept away from wood. But fungi can grow in wood only when it contains more than 20 per cent moisture. Air dry wood is regularly below this danger point.

Serious decay damage is most often due to one or more of the following errors in construction or maintenance:

1. Undrained soil and insufficient ventilation under basementless houses. The soil surface should slope away from the house and dense shrubbery or vines should not be planted too close to the house because they interfere with drainage.
2. Wood such as grade stakes, concrete forms or stumps left on or in soil under houses.
3. Wood parts of the house in direct contact with the soil, especially at dirt filled porches.
4. Wood parts imbedded in masonry near the ground.
5. Use of unseasoned and infected lumber.
6. Sheathing paper that is not sufficiently permeable to moisture vapor.
7. Inadequate flashing at windows, doors and roof edges.
8. Poor joinery around windows and doors and at corners, and inadequate paint maintenance. Paint can help prevent decay by protecting wood from intermittent wetting, but it is not a substitute for good construction.

9. Lack of rain gutters, and roof without overhang. As a rule, an overhang of 12 inches is desirable for a one story house and gutters and downspouts are particularly desirable for houses without overhanging eaves.

10. Unventilated attics. Vents should be at opposite ends and preferably near the peak, with a total unobstructed area of 1/300th of the ceiling area.

11. Roof leaks and leaks around shower-bath-tub combinations, kitchen fixtures and laundry rooms.

12. Failure to use preservative treated or naturally durable wood where moisture cannot be controlled.

Lumber Grading Fraud Charged

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Trade Commission says there is evidence of extensive misgrading of softwood structural lumber.

"The masquerading of low-grade lumber for high-grade lumber has bilked consumers of millions of dollars," the commission said in a report made public Thursday by Rep. John D. Dingell, D-Mich.

The practice, the commission said, also has "lowered the margin of structural safety in innumerable dwellings."

The report stems from a hearing and investigation begun in March, 1967, at the urging of Dingell, chairman of a House Small Business subcommittee on activities of regulatory agencies.

The report advocates mandatory marking of softwood lumber and legislation to prohibit counterfeiting or unauthorized use of grade marks and misrepresentation of species, size, strength or grade of lumber.

Misgrading Claimed
Federal inspection of grading and grade-marking practices in the softwood lumber industry is advocated.

The commission said it found that some lumber is misgraded before it leaves the mill, but concluded that extensive misgrading occurs at the lumber's destination after shipment.

"Low-grade lumber is difficult to sell when marked," the report said. "When unmarked, it commands a premium. And yet, it has been said that the only reason for purchasing the lower grades of common yard lumber in the unmarked state is to upgrade it."

"Upgraded lumber has accounted for a substantial share of lumber sales in affected markets of a number of states and the District of Columbia, including the most populous areas of New York, California and Texas. The fraudulent mixing of lumber constitutes a common trade practice."

Plans Hearings
Dingell said the report indicates that "consumer protection has been almost totally lacking" in the grading system which he said is regulated by the lumber industry itself.

The commission said it is awaiting a Commerce Department determination of the final form of new softwood lumber standards, and the industry's response, before deciding on the need for inquiring into stress-grading rules.

Dingell said he intends to conduct hearings within the next few weeks asking for an explanation of what he termed a dismal state of affairs.

Beam Of Sound Opens Factory

JACKSON (AP)—A beam of sound replaced the traditional pair of scissors at a ribbon-cutting ceremony in suburban Jackson Thursday.

The occasion was the opening of a new million dollar complex of the Walker Manufacturing Co.'s Engineering and Research Center at Grass Lake.

P. O. Nelson, supervisor of research at the complex, said the use of sound was decided upon because "sound is our business." The Walker Co. manufactures mufflers.

A switch was thrown to generate 1,800 cycles of sound per second through a circuit connected to the .003-inch steel ribbon, cutting it in two.

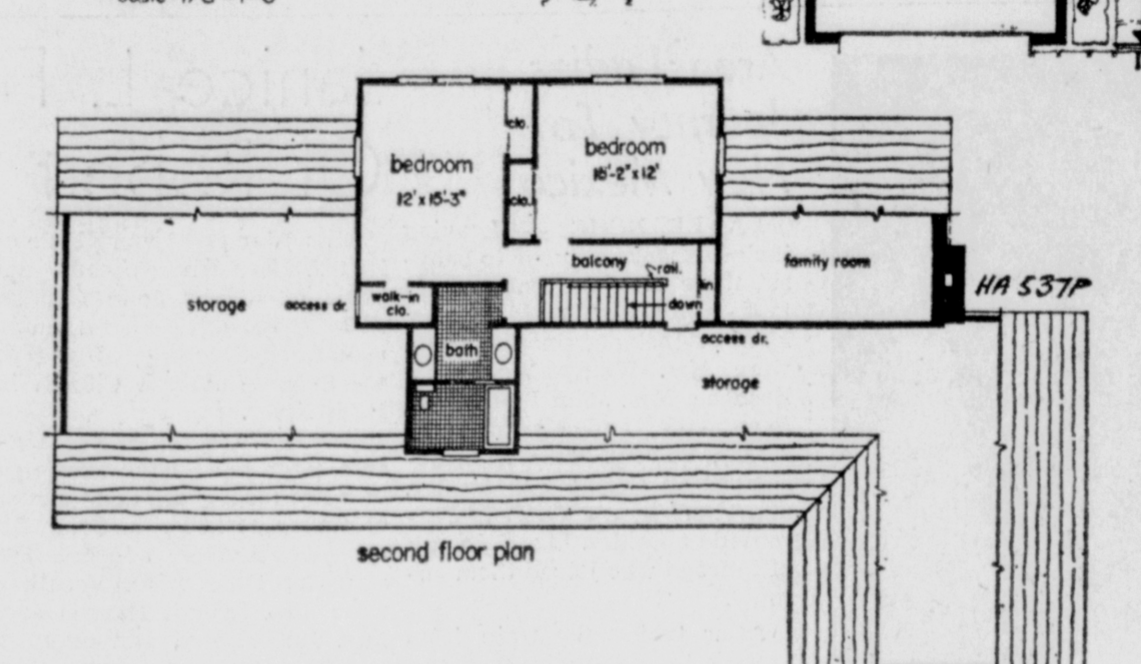

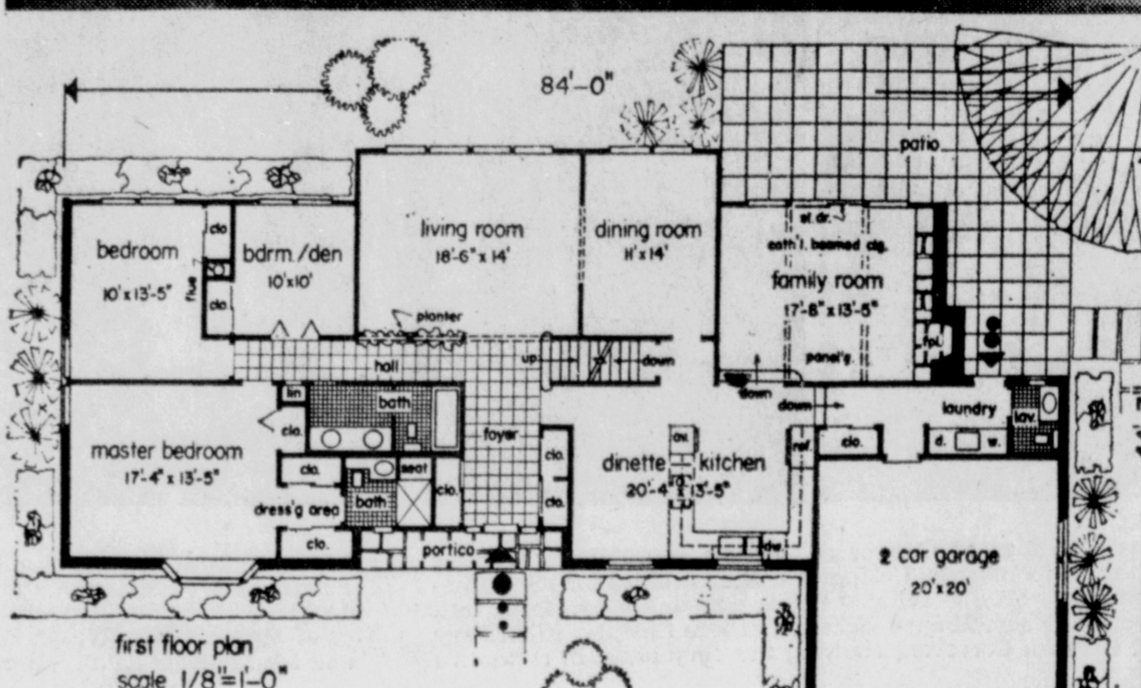

Stauffer Expands

NEW YORK (AP)—Stauffer Chemical Co. said Thursday it will build a sulphuric acid plant near San Francisco.

The plant will regenerate spent acids from bay area oil refineries and produce acid from sulphur derived by roasting pyrites ore from the company's mine in Shasta County, Calif.

The company also said it will double the productive capacity of its silicone plant at Adrian, Mich.

HOMES FOR AMERICANS

PLAN HA537P looks like a ranch but actually is one and a half story, with emphasis on total family living and children. The fourth and fifth bedrooms, on the second floor, can be completed at a future date if not needed immediately. The control center of this house is the kitchen. Around it are a cathedral-ceiling family room, dinette, laundry and lavatory — situated so that children coming in from outside don't have to go through the formal part of the house. Another desirable feature of HA537P is the abundance of storage space. There are 2,006 square feet on the first floor and 673 square feet on the second floor, as planned by architect Samuel Paul, 89-30 161 St., Jamaica, N. Y.

Doorway Offers Solid Welcome

There's a look of warmth and welcome to this Colonial entrance, yet it's a stock unit that gives a home individuality without custom-carpentry costs.

How does your front door sound — cold and hollow or warm, hearty and solid, and how does it look — severe or welcoming?

You can change the personality of your house — give it added warmth and individuality — simply by putting in a new stock entrance door of ponderosa pine, chosen to suit the architecture of the house and your family tastes.

Local building supply dealers carry a wide variety of wood panel doors in designs ranging from Colonial and Provincial to contemporary, and in sizes to fit almost any entrance.

For a change that's even more dramatic, you can install a complete new entrance, too. These are also available in many designs, factory-built and completely assembled. You can choose graceful pediments, fanlights and side lights, or a clean-cut contemporary style.

Gaining in popularity is the double-door entrance — two doors, side-by-side, to give a doubly warm welcome to your home.

Best Grass For Shaded Areas Is Suggested By MSU

Turfgrass varieties best adapted to a shaded lawn and the reasons why other varieties cannot survive under shaded conditions have been pinpointed by a Michigan State University scientist.

Dr. James Beard, MSU turfgrass researcher, says Pennlawn creeping red fescue is the best species for shaded sites.

While Pennlawn can be severely thinned by leafspot disease, it usually recovers from the injury and develops into an adequate turf, he says.

Beard and his colleagues discovered the actual cause of grass death under shaded conditions was not due to a lack of sunlight, as previously believed. Their studies show that the real cause is a more favorable environment for disease-producing microorganisms, plus a lack of disease-resistant varieties.

For example, permanent loss of Kentucky bluegrass has been caused by powdery mildew which is severe under shaded conditions.

Beard is currently working to develop new varieties that will thrive when grown in the shade. He says there is a definite need for this kind of variety, since about 25 per cent of Michigan's turf acreage is under some degree of shade.

Painting Thins Housing Budget

If a way can be found to eliminate all painting, homeowners could cut their home maintenance costs drastically.

U. S. Census Bureau figures show the average homeowner spends 36 per cent of his home improvement dollar on up-keep. Of this 17 per cent — or almost half — is spent on painting.

Clean Screens

Spring is the time when homeowners should take out their screens, clean off the wire and coat them if necessary to prevent future corrosion.

Scrap pieces of carpet are excellent for this job. Nail to blocks of wood for easy handling. Use one piece to dust the wire, another to apply screen enamel or varnish to the wire mesh. Discard each one as it gets dirty or worn.

Patrolman Pays Traffic Ticket

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP) — A financially troubled father of seven who left El Paso County Court to come up with $5 for a traffic ticket returned to find that state Patrolman William C. Thiede, who gave him the ticket, had already paid it.

Thiede issued the ticket because the man was driving with an expired temporary permit. The fine was $20, but the judge suspended $5 and Thiede paid the rest explaining he thought the man should use the money to buy food for his children.

Gribbs Named Wayne Sheriff

DETROIT (AP) — Roman Gribbs, a Traffic Court referee, has been named Wayne County sheriff, succeeding Peter L. Buback, who retired, Prosecutor William Cahalan announced Thursday.

He served in the prosecutor's office for several years. Gribbs was appointed by a three-member panel composed of Cahalan, County Clerk Edward Branigan and Probate Court Judge Frank Semanski.

The appointee will serve the remainder of Buback's unexpired term, which expires at the end of this year. Buback resigned after months of wrangling over charges that a ticket-fixing scheme had existed in the department.

The new house plan serves the two purposes well, with an A-frame exterior encompassing attractive chalet styling and a floor plan that is as easy to take care of as a year-round house as for vacation times at the shore or in the mountains. Families of all sizes and income brackets will like its versatility. It should please the traditionalist who doesn't especially care for a modern house and yet find favor with the contemporary enthusiast because of its modern adaptation of the old-world chalet and its functional living plan.

The enormous living room-dining room combined with a U-shaped kitchen, offers informal living regardless of the use to which the house is put. The open plan, highlighted by the windows, doors and upper glass areas, should make everyone feel right at home. The kitchen location makes it easy for family and guests to pitch in and help with the cooking, serving and cleaning up.

In any living scheme these days, there must be an area set aside for teen-age or special group activity. This house has a recreation room with its own fireplace on the ground level, with ready access to the storage zone at the back where sports equipment and householding gear can be handled easily. In good weather or semi-tropical locations, unusual outdoor areas will be utilized. On the ground level, there is a roofed porch. A most engaging feature in a house of this type is a spiral staircase that connects this lower level area with the deck above. The folks on each level thus can join each other or keep their gatherings separate. The lower porch is particularly good for cookouts in uncertain weather, since the grill is protected, but if the weather clears, the food trays can be taken to the upper deck via the staircase.

On the first floor, there are two bathrooms, with a closet wall between, and a complete bathroom in the hall nearby. An excellent feature, especially if it's lake or mountain property, is the broad patio at the back on this level, reached through sliding glass doors that form view windows for both rooms. The second floor or upper level has a number of innovations and offers not only a good bedroom plan but a delightful, sheltered, manding. The storage area has a heater alcove and space for laundry equipment. A lavatory is not shown, but could be added if required. Closet space is good on all levels. Over - all dimensions are a modest 32' by 37', with 977 square feet of living area on the first floor and 374 square feet on the partial second floor.

Z-40 STATISTICS
Design Z-40 has a combined living room-dining room-kitchen on the first floor, plus two bedrooms, a bath, an outdoor deck and a rear patio. A third bedroom and a lavatory are on the partial second floor, with a recreation room, laundry area and a large storage space at ground level. The garage could be used for the storage of a boat if desired. The over-all dimensions of the basic house are 32' by 37', not including the garage. Habitable area on the first floor totals 977 square feet; on the partial second floor, 374 square feet.

outdoor sleeping balcony at the front. The balcony is reached by a railed bridge from the bedroom area across the upper section of the living room. This will be a conversation piece as well as a practical addition to the basic plan.

Although this house is built on a concrete slab and is without a basement, the ground floor has householding adjuncts that will please the most de-

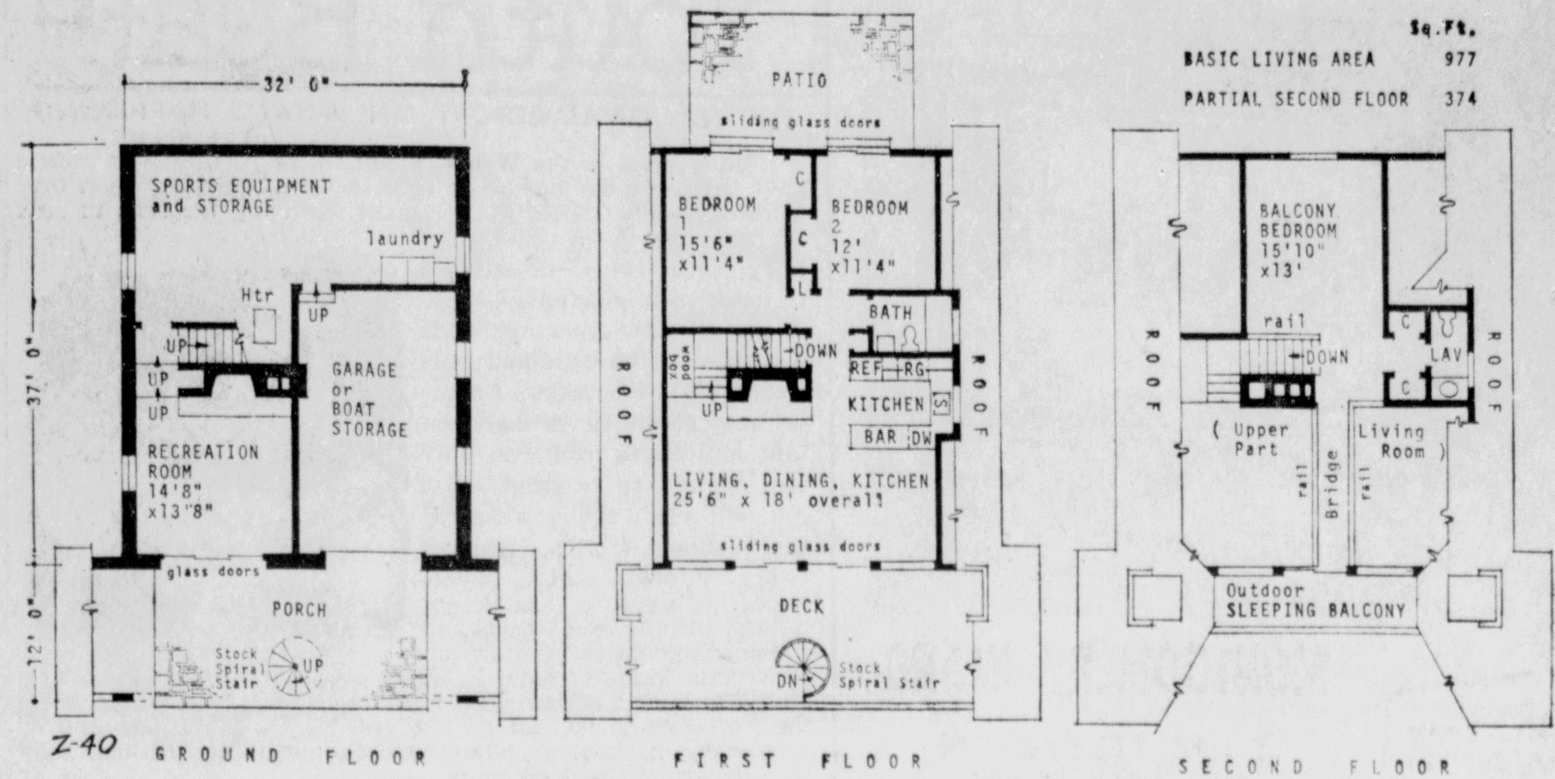

Campers Protest Welfare Niggardly

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — Three Logan County, W. Va., welfare recipients have been camped on the statehouse lawn since Wednesday to protest benefit checks that they say are inadequate.

So far they've recruited another member, turned down jobs as lumber mill workers and caused mutterings among state-house officials.

Woods

The cost of wooded property in some rural counties has now reached astronomical heights in the raw land stage. Common subdivision practice is to place roads through a patch of woods, and to carve the woods up so that everyone has a piece of it in their yard. Later they must remove the greater share of the timber to make room for residence, garage and drive.

FLOOR PLANS: Although basic house has small dimensions, three levels provide plenty of living space for either year-round or vacation living. Outdoor living areas, so important in a home of this type, are abundant, including a front deck and rear patio on the main level.

Wrong Color Can Make House Sick

Don't look now, but your house may be running a fever. If so, it could cost you money. The fact that your house runs a temperature is caused in part by the phenomenon of hot and cold colors. Some colors absorb heat, while others reflect it. In addition, colors run a psychological temperature.

Joseph P. Gaugler, a leading color consultant, says homeowners should take advantage of the psychological temperature of colors to get more enjoyment out of home ownership.

For example a "cool" color such as blue or green, when used in a room with southern exposure, will make the room more pleasant and comfortable — both physically and psychologically. It will actually cool the room and reduce glare.

Orange, which can warm and brighten a room with a cool northern exposure when used on drapes or furniture, is a poor choice for exterior use because it is too intense. An orange house would appear "stuffed."

Gaugler says an owner's choice of exterior colors should make the home more attractive and enhance its value. A poor choice of color can do just the opposite.

Trim color should be sharp, crisp and decisive. Siding color should be more conservative. White is a traditional favorite for exteriors, but shades of gray, green and beige have wide acceptance and are "safe" choices.

Cavanagh Sees Detroit Deficit

DETROIT (AP) — Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh Thursday termed the Detroit Common Council's refusal to raise property taxes "a strange and willful coalition" guaranteed to produce a deficit and "an inability to meet the city's basic obligations."

The council voted 18 straight times Tuesday to override Cavanagh vetoes of changes it previously had made in his $460 million budget for the fiscal year beginning July 1.

"I am sorry the council ganged up to defeat police reorganization, low cost housing, salary adjustments, more policemen and other vital needs of the city to create an almost catastrophic financial situation," Cavanagh said in a prepared statement.

"I expected help from the elected officials of the city but got nothing but a negative and obstructionist policy toward the accomplishment of the difficult tasks ahead."

"Indeed it was a strange coalition which worked and schemed to bring about this situation," he added, saying: "One councilman voted against the council's budget and then with characteristic consistency voted against my vetoes."

"Another had to be publicly coached and drilled to understand that a 'yes' vote was against the mayor and a 'no' vote upheld the vetoes. A third, unavoidably absent from budget sessions, was subjected to midnight cram sessions to get the council's point of view."

Cavanagh said: "I would say that the judgment of this negative group was less than objective, in fact, it was vindictive, personal and imprudent."

Tallest trees in America are the California redwoods, reaching a height of 340 feet.

Pickle Packers Boost Ballot

LANSING (AP) — Pushing pickle packers and the "precious right and privilege" of voting, Gov. George Romney has proclaimed today through June 1 as pickle week in Michigan.

"Michigan is the first in the nation in many achievements and successes, not the least of which is that we harvest more cucumbers for pickling than any other state," the governor said in his proclamation.

"Michigan, therefore, should take a proud and prominent place beside the Pickle Packers International who hope to keep people in pickles (and) 'keep America out of a pickle—vote'."

The pickle packers, Romney said, are promulgating this slogan to encourage everyone in America to register and vote in this year's election.

"In this manner," Romney said, "pickle packers are reminding all of us that casting the ballot is a previous right and privilege, and that at this time it is particularly necessary that every eligible man and woman declare that the American system is vigorous and successful, by registering a choice of the persons they deem will represent them best."

Jailed In Robbery

DETROIT (AP) — Robert Lamar Moree, 22, of Detroit, was held in lieu of $25,000 bond today on a federal charge of robbing a credit union in Pontiac of $50,000 April 30, the Federal Bureau of Investigation reported.

Giants Capture NL First Place

By The Associated Press
There's nothing like a nice little winning string to give a baseball team a lift in the standings. Except, perhaps, a nice little losing streak by the guys directly in front of you.

San Francisco's ambitious Giants have won eight of their last 11 games and St. Louis' cooperative Cardinals have dropped eight of their last 11. Result: A five-game pickup for the Giants and a change at the top of the National League race.

San Francisco captured first place Thursday with a 5-4 victory over Atlanta while St. Louis was losing 3-2 in 11 innings to Los Angeles in the only NL games played. New York at Philadelphia and Pittsburgh at Chicago were rained out.

In the American League, Cleveland battered California 9-2 and Chicago's game at Washington was rained out. The other teams were not scheduled.

The Giants beat the Braves for the third straight time when Marty Martinez, a substitute catcher, let one of Cecil Upshaw's pitches get away with Ron Hunt on third base in the ninth inning.

Hunt had opened the ninth with a single and reached third on a sacrifice and a ground out before scoring on the passed ball.

The Braves had rallied to tie the game in the eighth inning on Joe Torre's fourth hit of the game which drove in Hank Aaron. Aaron had tripled, scoring Tito Francona.

The Cardinals lost their seventh game in the last eight when Bob Bailey's 11th-inning single scored Willie Davis with the Dodgers' winning run.

Davis doubled opening the 11th and moved to third on a sacrifice. After Ron Fairly was intentionally walked, Tom Haller fouled out before Bailey singled.

Manager Walt Alton tempted fate in the bottom of the 11th when, with two out and the tying run on second, he ordered Orlando Cepeda intentionally walked, putting the winning run on base. The move paid off when reliever John Purdin retired Phil Gagliano on a fly ball, ending the game.

Jose Cardenal smacked two singles, a double and homer leading a 18-hit Cleveland attack that carried the Indians past California.

Max Alvis, Tommy Harper and Jose Vidal also homered for the Indians, who moved within 1½ games of first-place Detroit.

Sonny Siebert scattered seven hits and won his sixth game. He also had a two-run single that got the Indians started in the second inning.

Blair, Haney Get Duty Call

BALTIMORE (AP) — Outfielder Paul Blair and catcher Larry Haney of the Baltimore Orioles were given physical exams Thursday for possible active Army duty.

FOREARMED IS FOREWARNED. Former heavyweight boxing champion Jack Dempsey, left, arm wrestles with Bob Foster at Foster's training camp in Grossinger, N. Y. Dempsey, who held the heavyweight title from 1919 to 1926, is advising Foster who will meet Dick Tiger tonight in a bout for the light heavyweight crown.

Foster Rated Favorite In Tonight's Title Bout

NEW YORK (AP) — Light heavyweight champion Dick Tiger spots towering Bob Foster age, height, weight and reach but not in heart tonight when they clash in a 15-round title fight at Madison Square Garden.

Foster's physical advantages and his punching power have combined to make the 29-year-old challenger from Washington, a 12-5 favorite over the 38-year-old defender from the Republic of Bafra. The odds could go down by fight time.

The bout is scheduled for 9:30 p.m., EDT. It will be telecast in some areas of the nation by Sports Network. New York will be blacked out of the telecast.

The Garden hopes for a crowd of 15,000 and a gate of $150,000 which would get both Foster and the promotion off the financial hook. Foster has taken 60 per cent of the net gate and television and guaranteed Tiger $100,000 out of his percentage. He may wind up fighting for nothing.

"It doesn't matter," said Foster. "The main thing is the title. It's make or break. If I blow this, I may never get another chance. I don't intend to blow it."

He'll go in four or five rounds, or the first time I get him."

"He can make any prediction he wants to," said Tiger. "It doesn't bother me. I go into every fight confident I will succeed. I only hope he will try and make a fight of it so we can give the fans a good show."

Foster has these advantages over Tiger: height—6-foot-3½ to 5-8; reach—79 inches to 71, and weight—about 175 to 167.

The former Aor Force champion and ex-bomb factory worker has a 29-4 record, including 23 knockouts. Three of his losses were to heavyweights, Doug Jones, Zora Folley and Ernie Terrell. Jones and Terrell stopped him.

Tiger, making the third defense of the title he won from Jose Torres on Dec. 16, 1966, has a 58-15-3 record, including 26 knockouts. He never has been stopped.

Warlick Signs With Milwaukee

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — The new Milwaukee Bucks of the National Basketball Association signed their second veteran Thursday—Bob Warlick, 6-foot-5 guard picked from the San Francisco Warriors in the NBA expansion draft.

NFL Owners Present Their Version Today

NEW YORK (AP) — Faced with a "no contract, no football" threat from their veteran players, National Football League club owners were to present their side of the economic picture at a news conference today.

The NFL Players' Association broke off negotiations Thursday after a meeting in which the owners refused to budge on any of the players' economic demands.

Dan Shulman, the players' lawyer, said a policy of NFL clubs not signing veterans until the current negotiations are over was "in effect, a lockout."

"There are certain positions open to us," he said. "We have to go back to the membership and ask if they are ready to take action. If they continue not signing veterans there just won't be any football."

"If they do sign veterans, then we are in the position of going back to the players and having them tell us what to do. If we get no contracts we have no choice. No football!"

Shulman listed some of the players' alternatives—not showing up for training camp, showing up for camp and then leaving, not playing exhibition games, not playing regular season games.

A league spokesman said it was "not true that there is a concerted movement" not to sign veteran players. He said many veterans have already signed, including some of the 16 player representatives who met with the owners.

A player does not have to be under contract until the regular season begins but the club must notify each player by May 1 if they intend to pick up his option—that is, make him their property for another year.

The players are asking $500 a game for preseason contests, a $5 million annual payment to their pension fund and a $15,000 minimum salary.

Tigers Keeping Eye On Mud Hen Roster

OAKLAND (AP) — The Detroit Tigers, idle Thursday while awaiting the start of a weekend series with the Oakland Athletics, are keeping an eye on their top farm club in Toledo.

The Mud Hens aren't exactly tearing the International League apart, but their roster contains some promising farm hands that could help Detroit in the American League stretch drive.

Detroit Manager Mayo Smith's major problems continue to be a lead-off batter, a good right-handed pinch hitter and a stopper for his youthful bullpen corps.

The Toledo roster contains no bonanza of lead-off batters, but has three young players who can handle the ball from the right side of the plate and a couple of relief pitchers who may help Detroit's baby bullpen.

Bob Christian, an outfielder-third baseman is belting International League pitching at a .359 clip, with three homers and 14 runs batted in. Dave Campbell, an all-around utility player, is hitting .297 with five homers, and Wayne Comer, although off to a slow start, has impressed Tiger officials with his power.

The bullpen help might come from Mike Marshall, who pitched for the Tigers last year, and Dick Radatz, the former "Monster" of the Boston Red Sox bullpen, trying a comeback in the Detroit organization.

"That Christian gets good wood on the ball and doesn't try to hit everything out of the park like most of the major league hitters," Detroit batting coach Wally Moses has noted. "He just goes with the pitch."

Campbell, a former University of Michigan star, who hit 20 homers at Toledo last year, is just beginning to come into his own.

"He's gotten over all that college stuff and has started to concentrate on becoming a ball player," says Moses. "He's learning to play all positions because he's finally realized that this may be his ticket to the big leagues."

Comer, who batted .290 for Toledo last year, will have to improve his current .239 batting average if he hopes to get the call.

Ike Brown, a left-handed batter who was hitting .325 before an ankle injury sidelined him, is another good prospect.

"Losing him was like losing 33 per cent of my team," Toledo Manager Jack Tighe said recently.

Marshall posted a 4-2 record and 1.75 earned run average in his first six decisions. He was sent down to work himself into shape because he reported late for spring training. He was held up by exams at Michigan State University where he is working on a doctorate.

"We may bring him up if he keeps improving," Smith said last week. "He could help us."

Radatz remains a question mark. He struck out 12 the week before facing Detroit in an exhibition game but pitched poorly against the Tigers. The 6-foot-5, 260-pound right-hander fanned 11 in a victory over Buffalo this week and seems to have regained his control.

Wildness was the major factor in Radatz' collapse.

The Tigers open a three-game series with Oakland tonight. Earl Wilson was Smith's mound choice for the first game.

Spartans, Gophers Wage Battle For Championship

CHICAGO (AP) — A couple of old pros will be matching coaching wits when the Minnesota Gophers and Michigan State Spartans battle Saturday for the Big Ten baseball title and a berth in the NCAA's college World Series.

Barring any stumbles in Friday's conference round against different foes, Dick Siebert's Gophers and Danny Litwhiler's Spartans will have a championship showdown in a season windup twin bill Saturday.

Esky Golfers Top Gladstone

Dick Peterson of Escanaba led the Eskymos over Gladstone in a dual golf meet held yesterday at the Escanaba Country Club. The Eskymos had a 386 total, compared to Gladstone's 399.

Peterson shot a 41 to take medalist honors in the meet. Nolan Strom and John Krout led the Gladstone golfers with 48's.

Escanaba — Mulvaney 51; Peterson 41; Thomas 50; Beck 50; Kennedy 43; Anderson 50; Bradshaw 53; Gerisch 48.

Gladstone — Prins 52; Balding 49; Mackie 50; Krout 48; Reese 49; Cartwright 51; Strom 48; Tibergien 52.

Friday, Minnesota and Michigan State—tied for first place at 12-2 — play doubleheaders against still-alive Michigan (9-5) and Iowa (4-8) respectively.

Siebert, former Philadelphia A's first baseman, has the home diamond advantage for all four closing games as he sends his Gophers after his sixth Big Ten crown since 1956.

Litwhiler, erstwhile infielder for the Philadelphia Phils, St. Louis Cards, Boston Braves and Cincinnati Reds, has his Spartans confronted by a four-game road challenge in seeking Michigan State's first title since 1954.

Statistically, Michigan State dominates the league, leading in team batting with .311; pitching with a slim 0.98 ERA, and slugging with .426.

However, Siebert has a presidential election year precedent going for his Gophers. His Minnesota club was a conference winner five times—in 1956, 1958, 1959, 1960 and 1964. In the Presidential Years of 1956, 1960 and 1964, the Gophers also captured the NCAA title.

Pessimistically, Siebert observed before the league race: "I'm afraid the string will be broken, we just don't shape up as a national contender this time."

That remains to be seen, as does the confident preface prediction by Litwhiler that Michigan State would win the Big Ten title because "this is my best team in five years with power, pitching and speed."

In event of a title tie, the NCAA delegate will be selected on the basis of the won-lost record between the deadlocked teams, or by a toss of a coin if there is an even break.

Any conference games rained out Saturday will be played Sunday.

Auto Output Dips

DETROIT (AP) — Auto production in the nation declined slightly this week, but remained at a high level, the trade publication Automotive News reported Thursday.

The industry scheduled an output of 208,811 cars this week, compared with 212,590 last week and 173,378 the same week last year. Most of last week's decrease was a result in a reduction in Saturday operations, Automotive News said.

Are Genes To Blame?

Ask Driver Help To Test Theory

LANSING (AP)—Some of the worst drivers in the Grand Rapids area will be asked to submit to a voluntary blood test for the sake of science — to determine whether a genetic theory may have any relationship with bad driving.

Secretary of State James Hare suggested the study to test the validity of a theory that an extra Y chromosome may be related to poor driving attitudes.

Hare recently noted that several studies of convicted showed that they had more than a normal presence of the extra Y chromosome.

Hare said he is trying to set up a pilot study, to be conducted at the Grand Rapids Butterworth Hospital.

"We're legally hamstrung," he added. "We cannot make these persons go in for a blood test. But we will urge them to submit voluntarily."

Hare said both the Grand Rapids hospital and federal officials have indicated an interest in such a study.

"Hospital officials said they could conduct a valid study if they could get about 100 drivers to submit to blood tests," Hare said.

"I plan to write to these people to ask them to help us—and possibly themselves as well—in this most interesting study."

Hare said the hospital has received a grant from the federal government for its cytogenetics laboratory and has indicated a willingness to join in the pilot study.

The secretary of state said he plans to set up a meeting on the legal aspects of the proposed study with Grand Rapids court and law enforcement officials.

Hospital officials said they could handle about six of a total of 100 chronic driving violators a week. They indicated the study would take six to nine months to complete.

Hare said he was told by Dr. Joseph Mann, director of laboratories for the hospital, that if only two double Y chromosome persons were found in the study, the hypothesis of a relationship would be "quite well established."

Hare quoted Mann as saying the hospital has not encountered a single double Y male in studying 229 normal males.

The studies conducted among prisoners resulted in the tentative conclusion that the extra Y chromosome might be a cause of criminal tendencies.

Kenya Market Offers Variety

NAIROBI, Kenya (AP) — A visit to Nairobi's "supermarket" would surprise American housewives who think of Africa in terms of noisy animals, strange languages and dark jungles.

Gourmets priding themselves on exotic dishes from distant lands at high prices would find Nairobi's supermarket has plenty of variety, and often at lower prices than in America.

More than two dozen countries from around the world are represented in the imported foods.

A sign offers "Italian specialties." And on one shelf is a packaged lasagna dinner from Milton, Pa.

The diet-conscious can find five flavors of Metreel, and custard mixes not only from Kenya but also from Montrose, Scotland, and White Plains, N.Y. There are cleansers from Cheshire, Scotland, Cincinnati, Ohio, and the Elephant Soap Factory Ltd., Nairobi.

Pushing a cart along the well lighted aisles, one is likely to pass a Norwegian, a U.S. Peace Corps worker, a diplomat from Communist China; road builders from Italy; and housewives from more than two dozen countries.

The selective shopper, with plenty of time, can save money.

The East African shilling is worth roughly 14 U.S. cents. A 20 ounce can of grapefruit sections from Tel Aviv goes for 3.5 shillings. The same sized tin of the same item—from Machakos, Kenya—sells for 2.60.

The American housewife finds meat, fruit, and vegetables cheaper than back home but the food bill is about the same due to efforts to maintain the family's normal diet. Rice, noodles and macaroni are more expensive, but potatoes are less than 6 U.S. cents a pound.
